

PGG Wrightson's Chief Financial Officer Resigns

PGG Wrightson Limited (PGW) announced today that its Chief Financial Officer, Rob Woodgate, has resigned. Rob is planning to take some time off over the summer period before exploring new career opportunities in the New Year.

Rob will continue in the role and to support the Board, the Chief Executive Officer, Mark Dewdney and the Management Team through to the end of November.

A replacement CFO will be appointed in due course.

Mark Dewdney said "Rob joined PGW in April 2009 and stepped into a business considerably different to the one we have today. Some fifteen months later he took on the CFO role and extended his scope to cover Technology, Shared Services and at one point HR and Strategy. Over this period he has worked closely with the Board and Management and been central to reshaping the financial position and strategy of the business. Today, with Rob's input, we have a financially healthier and more dynamic business to grow from. Rob leaves us having secured a number of key achievements and also in the knowledge that he has been part of a significant turnaround in fortunes for PGW. We'd like to take this opportunity to wish him all the best in his career. Rob is a high quality CFO who would be an asset to any business".
