Commentary,

The market today in Napier was slightly better than we anticipated. Although there was a drop in price for most wool types we were pleased to have the better wools hold on and not fall in price as harshly as the higher coloured wools. A small rise in price for very fine lambs wool was well received, but, again the higher coloured lambs wool saw the same fate as the stronger wools and fell sharply in price compared to the previous sale in December.

Kind regards,
