Commentary,

It was good to have come out of today's sale with the levels we did. Right from the start of the day the market was sticky, with some lots selling well and others struggling to gain traction for no apparent reason. There were a lot of holes in the lambs wool market, it was very erratic and sometimes hard to follow. The PGG Wrightson catalogue did however achieve a slightly better market indicator than last week on the back of some better quality wools we had to offer which helped the average prices for our sale.

Kind regards,
Steve Fussell
