There was a real price correction at the wool sale held in Napier this morning. Apart from a handful of good fleece wool lines the market trend was down across the board. Bidding was erratic over some lots and very subdued with others. To quote a buyer today, "prices were all over the place". This was the last sale for this "wool season" and on behalf of the team at PGG Wrightson wool I would like to thank you for your business this year and look forward to marketing your wool over this coming wool season.
