Steady as she goes for the market indicator again this morning at the North Island wool sale held in Napier. Strong demand has again driven a rise in value for most wool types. Lambs wool was in hot demand today with comments being made around the colour and vegetable matter levels being very important this year. Some quality fleece wool from the Central Hawkes Bay region sold extremely well and a line of very well prepared, and grown, second shear wool from the Hastings area sold under the hammer at a level the owner should be very proud of. Regards, Steve Fussell, North Island Procurement and Sales Manager
